Congratulations to March Made with Pride Honorees

Pre-K Roundup
Begins Next Week

Duncanville ISD is offering a new full day prekindergarten program for the 2017-2018 school year. Registration for all of the district's pre-K classes will be held at the new Acton Elementary School on Tracy Williams, a cosmetology teacher at Duncanville High School, is the Made With Pride in Duncanville – Teacher for March.

Ms. Williams is knowledgeable and creative, and she models professionalism for her students. She holds college/career readiness boot camps after school hours and assists students in finding programs to complete additional required hours after graduation.

Ms. Williams created the marketing and branding for 'The Cutting Edge Salon' at Duncanville High School which allows students to use their skills while interacting with the public.

Members of the SkillsUSA Cosmetology chapter, under Ms. Williams' sponsorship, won 1st place in the Career Pathway State competition and will compete in the National SkillsUSA contest.

Leonard Rudd, a student at Kennemer Middle School, is the Made With Pride in Duncanville – Student selection for the month of March.

Leonard is a 7th-grade student at Kennemer Middle School, who walks his cousins to Acton Elementary each morning and regularly returns to walk them home after school.

He and his sister both went to elementary school at Acton, so he knows many of the teachers there

Teachers and staff say during Leonard's frequent visits, he is respectful and greets them with a firm handshake or hug.

Leonard has volunteered his time to support the Acton carnival by selling concessions and cleaning up.

Elena Baucom, a teacher specialist at Hardin Intermediate, is the Made With Pride in Duncanville – Staff selection for the month of March.

The nomination letter from Hardin staff included a long list of kudos. Here are just a few:

There have been times when we sit in meetings discussing new ideas and before we leave, Ms. Baucom has a new template created or has already started to do research on the internet to find what we need.

Another example of her initiative was when we reassigned a teacher to a new position and when approached about offering support for that teacher, Ms. Baucom had already created a plan. She also helped the teacher move and assisted with resources.
